

Prof. arch. Marina Molon

Researcher in Architectural and urban design after a National competition from 1975; Associated professor in Architectural and urban Design after National qualification from 1981; Full professor in Architectural and Urban Design after National competition from 2002.

From 1970 assistant, researcher and teacher at the School of Architecture of the Politecnico di Milano where she also graduated from. She has been teaching in European, Latin American and African Universities during the past 30 years. Vicedirector of Architecture Department, head of the Course of study in Science of Architecture, member of the Committee of the Mantova Campus of Politecnico di Milano, teacher in the High Polytechnic School, in the PHD in Architectural and Urban Design and in the PHD in Interiors Design, responsible for international relations between the Politecnico di Milano and about 22 Universities around the world. Jubilated in 2012, is member, like senior expert, in the PHD in Architectural and Urban Design at the Faculty Of Architecture and Society of Politecnico di Milano and

2018